- Establish and build your personal brand
- Network effectively and build professional connections
- Translate your transferable skills to a functional resume and cover letter that unlocks doors for you

ABOUT YOUR COACH

After graduating with a PhD in 2011, I spent many hours on the internet searching for answers to the question, "What else can I do with my PhD?". But my efforts were fruitless! I enrolled for another degree. But it still left me unsatisfied. After 12 years of searching, I finally stumbled upon my passion by chance!

I now run a growing company that helps life sciences and pharma clients communicate science effectively. And I assist STEM graduates to make similar but strategic and intentional transitions into meaningful, rewarding careers. Contact me to learn how I can help you.
